

Carrollton Christian Fellowship

How does Jesus' interpretation of the law challenge our modern understanding of righteousness and spiritual growth?

In what ways might our cultural traditions or denominational practices be at odds with the true heart of God's word?

How can we cultivate a 'new heart' as described in the sermon, rather than simply adhering to a list of rules?

What are the implications of Jesus' teachings on anger and reconciliation for how we handle conflicts in our personal relationships and church communities?

How does the concept of 'agape love' differ from our natural inclinations, and what does it look like to love our enemies with God's divine love?

Carrollton Christian Fellowship

In what ways might we be unintentionally changing or misinterpreting God's word to fit our cultural context or personal preferences?

How can we balance the need for justice with Jesus' call to 'turn the other cheek' and go beyond what is required of us?

What does it mean to be 'perfect' as our heavenly Father is perfect, and how does this relate to our need for a Savior?

How might our approach to worship and service change if we prioritized reconciliation and right relationships above all else?

In what ways can we resist the temptation to rely on 'oral traditions' or cultural norms instead of seeking the true heart of God through His word?